Dear Mr. How,

I have not begun systematic search for novae yet although I have made all-sky searches to  $+12$  magnitude with the naked eye on several occasions. I have observed Comet Achenbach several times but haven't made any magnitude or diameter estimates.

However, I have made several estimates of Nova Herculis, summarized below:

April 17 - magnitude 6.7.

April 29 - magnitude 6.8

May 4 - magnitude 6.8
